Selectmen's Meeting

195 SIGN COSTLY

Arthur Martin, owner of Hillside Motel, returned to confer with Selectmen on the Gas/Food/Lodging sign request for 195. Selectmen, having obtained the specifications for such a sign, told Mr. Martin that the cost would be $5,000 or $10,000 for a sign with logos. Mr. Martin said that the figure was ridiculous and that he could put up such a sign for $100. or less. Other qualifications for the sign are that such services be a mile or less from the exit of 195. The restaurant must serve 3 meals a day to meet the specifications and no restaurant within the mile meets this requirement. Martin showed Selectmen a photo of the sign in Fairhaven and wondered how far this sign was from the food, gas and lodging services. The Selectmen said they would take Martin's request to the area Chamber of Commerce to request their assistance in locating a sign in Mattapoisett.

SPORTS PROGRAM APPROVED

Selectmen approved a $600. increase in the town sports program. Recreation Director Barry Haskell told Selectmen that most of the increase was due to the increased cost of referees which is now $6. to $7. per game, and umpires, $2. to $11. more per game. Selectmen noted that there is one less Little League team and Haskell said that this is the only time that a team has been dropped and that spring training tryouts indicated a great interest as 24 children tried out for 4 open slots on the teams. He said the program is now "out of the uniform business" and "out of the awards business".

Mr. Haskell said that there is now a 60/40 boy/girl participation in the sports activities. Selectmen asked that some figures be prepared on the number of participants. He said that the summer day care arts/crafts activities at the Center

School playground attracted a changing number of participants, sometimes as many as 50 or 60 and sometimes close to a dozen according to the heat for the day.

Haskell said that he would prepare enrollment figures for the various activities.

The Selectmen complimented Mr. Haskell on the program. Selectman James Huntoon said that the board had never received anything but compliments. Selectmen approved the $16,992. budget request. In 1982 wages were $7,212.87; expenses were $9,115.60, for a total of $16,328.47.

ROAD RACE

Selectmen agreed to support and present trophies at the annual Mattapoisett Road Race to be held on July 4th starting at 10 a.m. The Committee plans a few changes in the route of the race to make it more scenic for the runners and make a better route for spectators. The course will end at Shipyard Park.

BANDSTAND REPAIR

Selectmen gladly gave permission to the Mattapoisett Lions' Club to refurbish the black iron railing of the bandstand at Shipyard Park. Lions' President Arthur Blackburn requested the permission in a letter. The bandstand was constructed by the Lions Club as a gift to the town and Selectmen were informed recently that the rails had weathered and rusted in the salt air.

EMT LEGISLATION

Selectmen were informed by Representative Walter Silveira, Jr. that House Bill 3071 will be held on April 6. This bill would allow the ambulance to operate with one EMT and would be of great help to smaller communities which maintain such service.

CONSTABLE REVIEW

A request was received from Carleton Hammond to be reappointed as constable as his current appointment expires April 30. Selectmen will request a total of processes served and other duties performed.

Moby Dick Returns

HOME OF WORLD PREMIERE

The ZEITERION THEATRE is presenting the John Huston film, Moby Dick, this week through Thursday, April 7th. Moby Dick had its World Premiere at the ZEITERION (then State Theatre) in 1956, an important event in New Bedford's history. It is represented now as part of the ZEITERION's 60th anniversary celebration.

The Herman Melville epic was presented at three New Bedford theatres on June 27, 1956, the State, New Bedford and Empire. The three premieres were a complete sell-out.

The World Premiere was preceded by a three-day celebration. A host of celebrities, including Gregory Peck and John Huston, were greeted by a crowd of 35,000 fans. A parade, a Moby Dick Sailing Regatta, a Captain Ahab beard growing contest, a Time Magazine souvenir program and the presentation of the "keys to the city" by then Mayor Lawler to Peck and Huston

GEOFF V. KING

Dear Rochester Voter:

From 1979 to 1982 I was a member of the Board of Assessors and served as chairman during my last year in office. During my tenure I was actively involved in the difficult task of property revaluation which was completed in 1980. This work was accomplished in a timely fashion, with a minimum of outside help, and was praised by Department of Revenue officials. The total cost of revaluation for Rochester was considerably less than if the work had been contracted out, a fact that can be attested to by comparison with other area towns.

Updating of property values in 1982, as required by law, was well advanced when I was defeated for re-election last year. There is no valid reason why the task could not have been completed by mid-summer and a tax rate approved by early October at the latest, and tax bills sent out soon thereafter. This inexcusable delay has resulted in the town having to borrow additional money for a longer period at an extra cost to you as a taxpayer.

Why has this happened? Throughout the original revaluation process and the updating that was in progress when I left office last year, my current opponent consistently refused to participate in the work to any meaningful degree. After the election, with only one member of the Board having any sound conception and experience, progress almost stopped for an extensive period and the Board remains handicapped to the present day.

As an assessor I did my utmost to ensure fair assessment of properties under accepted methods of property appraisal. Revaluation resulted in the elimination of long-standing inequities in property assessments. Understandably, some property owners were adversely affected. However, revaluation resulted in much fairer assessments, a fact that can substantiated by comparing official property sales reports before and after revalution. If biennial updating is not conducted in a fair and timely manner, by impartial assessors who understand and believe in the system and will work to support it, inequities will again crop up. The old time way of doing business can only create further problems for Rochester. It is time to vote out of office old time assessors who have no intent of changing their ways of doing business.

I believe I lost re-election last year because of false statements made against me and because many people failed to come out and vote. How well the assessment process is conducted and how fair your property assessment is depends a great deal on you. Be fair to your town and to yourself - vote on April 13. I respectfully solicit your support.

Sincerely,
Roger O. Pothier

bers of the feature Quartet has with the New Bedford area. Maurine (Breton) Purcell, baritone, lived in New Bedford and Acushnet before graduating from New Bedford High School. Subsequently she moved to South Carolina and then to New Hampshire.

Maurine says "When you combine two married couples who love to sing, add the unique and rich sound of barbershop harmony, sprinkle with a generous portion of comedy, stir, and the end result is a dynamic barbershop quartet called "Both Sides of the Fence".

They combined their talents approximately four years ago as close friends who harmonized for fun. Then the Purcells and the Dubrays decided to take their show on the road and have been delighting barbershop audiences ever since.

A uniquely different type of barbershop quartet, Both Sides of the Fence will leave you laughing, tapping your feet and ultimately wondering why this kind of combination isn't put together more often.

This Barbershop concert will be held at 8:00 p.m. April 30th at the New Bedford High School auditorium, Hathaway Boulevard.

Advance tickets may be purchased at the Lighthouse Christian Bookstore, 282 Union Street, New Bedford; telephone 997-1165. Tickets will be available at the door.

"The Gentlemen's Agreement", "The Boston Common" and a score of others too numerous to mention.

The feature Quartet this year will be "Both Sides of the Fence" from Nashua, New Hampshire. Sharing top billing with them will be the 100-man Narragansett Bay Chorus. This Providence, Rhode Island group entered competition with over 800 other chapters throughout the United States and Canada. They survived different levels of elimination and finished in 7th place at the International contest last July in Pittsburgh. Also appearing in this concert will be "The Nautical Notes", past District champions; "Take Four", an outstanding comedy quartet, and the "Harpoon Harmonizers" chorus.

Local residents will be surprised at the familiarity with which one of the mem-

ZEITERION'S SEASON FINALE
TO STAR ROBERT GOULET

The ZEITERION THEATRE will present Robert Goulet in concert at a special gala celebration of the theatre's 60th anniversary. Two shows, at 6:00 and 9:00 p.m., will be held on Saturday, April 9. The gala evening will also include the All-Tap Revue, an eight member tap dance company and a party and dance on stage following the 9:00 p.m. performance.

Mr. Goulet will be arriving in New Bedford after his current two-week engagement in Puerto Rico. The Lawrence, Massachusetts born entertainer has performed for audiences worldwide and has more than a score of hit recordings to his credit. After his recent appearance in New York City, The New York Times said: "Mr. Goulet still possesses one of pop music's more commanding voices...he punches out lyrics in a swinging conversational manner." Throughout his career, in tempo with ever-changing public tastes, he has remained a star and one of the few who headlines Las Vegas year after year with growing success.

The opening act for the performance will be The All-Tap Revue, an eight-member tap dance company, produced by Brian Jones.

The troupe is known for its special brand of humor, lavish costumes, and according to Iris Fanger in Dancemagazine, "Spectacular tap dancing". The All-Tap Revue began as an annual show at the Rhode Island School of Design in Providence, Rhode Island. Now, the troupe has grown to the status of a locally-recognized professional dance company.

A special patron's ticket is available for the 9:00 p.m. performance, which includes the party and dance on stage after the final show. The party will be catered and the Meadowlarks, a 10-piece band, will provide the dance music. A special anniversary committee, co-chaired by Mrs. Edwin Babbitt and Mrs. Louis Silverstein, is organizing the sale of patron's tickets into dinner party groups.

The 60th anniversary celebration comes at the end of the new ZEITERION'S first season as a performing arts center. The theatre has been successful in building an enthusiastic audience, exceeding the expectations of many, and becoming a valuable and contributing member of the New Bedford community.

Originally, Barney and Harry Zeitz opened the ZEITERION as a vaudeville house on April 2, 1923 changing in September of that year to the STATE THEATRE, showing movies until 1981. The theatre then closed as the property became a target for a parking lot. The Waterfront Historic Area League(WHALE) became interested in this historic building and together with Urban Consultants, Inc. conducted a feasibility study to see if there was a market for a performing arts center. When the results were positive, WHALE hired Ted Stevens, then executive director of the Ocean State Performing Arts Center in Providence, Rhode Island, as the project coordinator. The theatre building was donated to WHALE by the Penlers of Paragon Travel on December 31, 1981, and WHALE raised $200,000 for the first phase of restoration. The ZEITERION THEATRE held its gala reopening on September 25th of last year with Shirley Jones in concert.

On April 18th the theatre will begin its second stage of restoration. Funds exceeding $1,032,000, granted by the State of Massachusetts and raised privately by WHALE will be utilized in the beautification process. The theatre will reopen in late July with a summer series.

Tickets for the 60th Anniversary Celebration starring Robert Goulet on Saturday, April 9th, at 6:00 and 9:00 p.m. are available at the ZEITERION THEATRE box office on 684 Purchase Street, New Bedford, or by calling 994-2900.

Jazz Festival

A concert by the Gary Burton Quartet will highlight Southeastern Massachusetts University's Fourth Annual Jazz Music Festival to be held May 5 through 8.

The Burton group will appear on May 6 at 7:30 p.m. in SMU's main auditorium.

The quartet, which improvises "collectively" as a unit, includes saxophonist Jim Odgren, drummer Mike Hyman, bassist Steve Swallos, and Gary Burton. Burton himself has been called the premier vibraphonist (or vibraharpist, as they are sometimes referred to) in jazz today -- by both the Washington Post and the New Haven Register, for example. The pioneer of the use of four mallets instead of two, which greatly expands the musical dimensions of the vibraphone, he was selected in 1968 by Downbeat magazine as Jazz Man of the Year and has been named Best Vibist every year since. Two of the 23 albums recorded by this musician, whom the London Times called "one of the most popular attractions in the jazz field", have won Grammy Awards.

in navigable waters governed by Section 10 of the River and Harbor Act of 1899 and the discharge of dredged or fill material regulated by Section 404 of the Clean Water Act. The permit would eliminate the need for obtaining individual approval from the Corps for most noncontroversial work in Massachusetts.

Examples of activities that could be eligible under the general permit include upgrading existing roadways, beach nourishment work, maintenance dredging where dredged material is placed within upland areas, repairs or modifications to existing marinas within present limits, construction of small boat ramps, minor shore protection work, and minor bridge work.

The Corps would review all Notices of Intent submitted to the state Department of Environmental Quality Engineering to determine eligible projects and forward that information to other state and federal agencies for their review. If one of these agencies indicates that the potential impacts of a proposed project would be more than minimal, the project would be deemed ineligible and the applicant advised that

Your support for the one-year unexpired term as a member of the Trustees Free Public Library will be appreciated. The Joseph H. Plumb Memorial Library had the dedicated services of Olive B. Winslow as trustee and librarian for 42 years. No one will equal the dedicated service of Mrs. Winslow to the library and the Town of Rochester. I am seeking Mrs. Winslow's unexpired term. I have been a resident of Rochester all of my 20 years and used the library until I entered Stonehill College. I am a product of the Rochester School System from Grade 1 through 12 graduating from Old Rochester Regional High School in 1980. I will be awarded my degree in 1983 and am planning to continue my education and pursue a law career. If elected, my one-year term as trustee will be a learning process and conceivably be a forerunner to making a decision for my future. Your support on April 13 at the polls will be appreciated.

Sincerely,

developments; and work which could affect historic, cultural or recreational values, wild and scenic rivers, or threatened or endangered species.

Projects of national concern would be evaluated on a case-by-case basis. In addition, the Engineers also retain the authority to require an individual permit for any work that meets the general permit conditions when it feels that the potential consequences of the project warrant that action.

The Engineers originally issued a public notice on December 30, 1982, soliciting public views on the proposal. Comments received expressed concern about program implementation.

"The hearings will provide forums for further discussion on the proposal," Colonel Carl B. Sciple, head of the Engineers in the region, said. "In addition to affording an opportunity for the public to present its views, the New England Division will also detail implementation procedures it will use to insure that the federal regulatory role for wetland areas will be undiminished and that only projects with minimal impacts are authorized."

Proposal of the general permit stems from the findings of the Presidential Task Force for Regulatory Relief which directed the Corps of Engineers to evaluate the regulatory programs of the states and to issue general permits, where appropriate, to minimize delays, paperwork and duplication.

Plymouth Philharmonic

The Plymouth Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Rudolf Schlegel, presents the third concert of its 1982-83 season on Saturday, April 9th. The concert, which begins at 8 p.m., will take place in Memorial Hall, Court Street, Plymouth.

Haydn's "Sinfonia No. 4" opens the program. The Sinfonia, a charming work in three movements, is an example of Haydn's born gift for orchestration, balance and structure. The piece was most probably composed in 1759 or 1760, when Haydn was Musical Director for Count Morzin of Bohemia.

Dramatic soprano Donna Roll then joins the Philharmonic in Richard Strauss' "Four Last Songs". The songs, published posthumously in 1949, are regarded as masterpieces of this composer who began and ended his career with the writing of songs. Poignant in both music and text, the songs are a reconciliation with the approaching end of the composer's life.

The songs are especially suited to Miss Roll, for the heart of her repertoire is the music of Richard Strauss and Richard Wagner. Winner of the prestigious Kirsten Flagstad award, Miss Roll has sung Strauss' Salome and Elektra and Wagner's Senta, Elsa, Elisabeth, Sieglinde and the Siedfried and Gotterdammerung Brunnhildes.

Critics from three continents have compared the voice of Donna Roll to the legendary voices of Helen Trauble, Kirsten Flagstad and Eileen Farrell. The New York Times said of Miss Roll's Lincoln Center debut in 1981: "The strength and attractiveness of her soprano and her evident joy in singing were very exciting."

Miss Roll attended Boston University. She has studied with the renowned baritone David Blair McClosky, Metropolitan Opera conductor Walter Taussig and Danish artist Axel Schiotz. In addition to her operatic engagements, Miss Roll has appeared with such leading orchestras as the Vancouver Symphony, the Rochester Philharmonic, the New Jersey Symphony, the Savannah Symphony and the San Antonio Symphony. She made a singular impact on television and dance theatre audiences across the country with her stunning guest performances of "She, Who Sings" in the Joffrey Ballet Remembrances. Miss Roll, a native of Ohio, now resides in Kingston, Mass. and Boston.

In the 150th anniversary year of Johannes Brahms' birth, the Philharmonic closes the evening with Brahms' "Symphony No. 4 in e minor", a work that found immediate success in the concert hall upon its premiere in 1885.

Tickets for this concert may be purchased at the Ruddy Duck, Duxbury; Colley Music, Plymouth; or by calling the Philharmonic at 746-8008.

This performance is made possible with support from the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities, a state agency.

The grounds as well are maintained as the Codmans planned. Of special interest is the formal garden which was completed in 1901 in the style of an Italian Renaissance villa garden.

An important part of the Codmans' leisurely lifestyle was afternoon tea. Visitors may partake of this luxurious custom as part of their tour of the house. Costumed hostesses serve tea, scones made from Dorothy Codman's recipe, jam & cream on the house piazza overlooking the estate.

Codman House opens to the public June 1, Wednesday through Sunday, 12-5. Reservations are now being accepted for May through October for groups of ten or more people. The garden tour and afternoon tea are available to groups only. For further information call 259-8843.

on May 25, 26 and 27 and at the seventh New England Artist Festival in Amherst on June 4 and 5. A third screening elsewhere in New England is possible. The Film Festival is sponsored by the Arts Extension Service of the Division of Continuing Education, University of Massachusetts at Amherst, and the Boston Film/Video Foundation.

In addition to cash and film service prizes which the Film Festival awards, it more importantly provides a forum for filmmakers to gain exposure and exchange ideas and information. Each year the Festival continues to increase its audience by encouraging production, distribution, and programming professionals in the film and television industries to attend screenings and meet winning filmmakers.

All non-commercial independent and student films produced within the past two years are eligible. Entries are invited in four categories: narrative, documentary, animation, and experimental, and they should be less than an hour in length. Prizes will be awarded by a panel of working film professionals and films will be judged in two divisions: Independent and Student.

The New England Film Festival evolved as part of the broader New England Artist Festival and Showcase, the region's largest gathering of craftspeople, visual artists, writers, performers, and filmmakers.

The New England Artist Festival will take place on June 4 and 5 on the campus of the University of Massachusetts in Amherst. In its seventh year the Festival has become the region's largest and most comprehensive multi-arts event, including over four hundred artists in the visual, arts, craft, performance, literary arts and independent film.

The Festival provides a marketplace for buying outstanding craft and offers exhibits, performances, demonstrations, work-skaters, Show Director Rita L. Blair has had the opportunity of displaying a variety of talent from the Greater New Bedford and Fall River areas along with the Taunton area.

Amateur talent abounds from within the Taunton club itself as several members will share the solo spotlight with guest skaters. Members of the Club who range in ages from 2 to 18 will participate in a wide variety of entertainment which includes the animals from Dr. Dolittle, E.T.; the boys of "Rocky" fame and the perennial favorites of Precision Team Skating. Other features will be a solo spot, "Le Jazz Hot"; renditions from the great shows of "All That Jazz" and "The Wiz"; the French Can-Can; and a solo performance from "Ragtime".

Tickets are now available through members or at the rink office, Williams Street, Taunton.
